LOCKED OUT

WALKING WOUNDED: Abbey Tew by the locked gate and, inset, the padlock that thwarted paramedics

Dad's fury as park gate stops ambulance from reaching injured child

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A SERIOUSLY injured girl was forced to wait almost an hour for an ambulance after a padlocked gate prevented paramedics from entering Harlow Town Park.

Abbey Tew (12), of Stile Croft, was left in agony after dislocating her knee while playing with her sister Maddy and dad John in the park's adventure playground.

Although an ambulance was called, it could not get to her because the gated entrance on Netteswell Road was locked.

Paramedics eventually gave up trying to gain vehicle access and instead trudged 500 yards across parkland laden with first aid equipment and a trolley stretcher.

Furious dad John said: "Abbey was in a lot of pain but she had to wait for almost an hour for the paramedics to take her to hospital because all the access gates were padlocked and the crew didn't have a key."

"Thankfully she wasn't seriously injured but it doesn't bear thinking about what would have happened if a life was at risk."

Although Harlow-based ambulance crews are supposed to be supplied with keys to the park's access gates, the team despatched to collect Abbey had come from Loughton.

"It's all very well that Harlow crews have got the right keys but what happened with my daughter proves that the system needs to be changed," said John.

"The crew were fantastic and I couldn't fault them for how they looked after my daughter, but surely it wouldn't cost much to have keypad locks installed on the gates to avoid this happening again."

Tony Hall, chairman of the authority's environment policy working group, said the ambulance service should have sent a Harlow-based crew to the scene.

"The question that needs to be asked is why a local ambulance crew with local knowledge was not sent to this incident," he said.

"The padlocks are fitted on the request of the police and keys for these access gates are distributed to all emergency services in Harlow. These are standard pad-

Cyclist dies in hospital six days after fall from bike

POLICE are conducting extensive inquiries after a cyclist died six days after falling from his bicycle in Flex Meadow, Harlow.

The 33-year-old man, who lived in Harlow, slipped into a coma after suffering a fractured skull in the accident, which occurred at about 10pm on Sunday, September 19.

He died at Queen's Hospital in Romford on Saturday evening.

Essex Police said officers were now trying to establish the circumstances which resulted in the man falling from his bike.

It is believed the front wheel became detached from its mounting.

Sergeant Iain Masheder, from the serious collisions investigation unit, said the man had been making his way home from work.

He was cycling along a stretch of pavement between the Tesco distribution centre and Elizabeth Way when the accident happened.

Anyone who saw what happened or with any information about events leading to the fall should contact Sergeant Masheder at the on (01245) 240590 or 0300 333 4444.

Hoodie youths demand cash from man (20)

POLICE are investigating an attempted robbery by three youths wearing hoodies in The Hides, Harlow.

A 20-year-old man from Harlow was approached by the trio in the early hours of Saturday.

They demanded money from their victim and one punched him before they ran off in the direction of the town centre.

The man was uninjured and nothing was stolen.

The suspects are described as in their mid to late teens. Two were wearing black hooded tops and the third wearing a green hooded top.

Anyone with information should contact police at Harlow CID on 0300 333 4444.

Ed's victory a positive move says Rammell

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

FORMER Harlow MP Bill Rammell this week welcomed the election of new Labour leader Ed Miliband – despite having backed his older brother David for the job.

Ed won Saturday's election after receiving just over one per cent more votes than his brother from Labour MPs, party members and the unions.

Mr Rammell, who represented Harlow from 1997 until this year, had worked closely with the former Foreign Secretary David during his time as Armed Forces minister.

"It was always going to be a close result," he told the Star on Tuesday. "Speaking to party members, I know it was an incredibly difficult and tight decision between Ed and David when they both have and share the same values."

Ed's win on Saturday represented a dramatic rise from relative obscurity for the former energy secretary who only became an MP in 2005.

Unlike his brother, Ed has been critical of New Labour's record including on the Iraq war, leading many to brand him the candidate of the left.

But Mr Rammell denied that there was a large difference in thinking between the candidates.

WINNER: Above, Ed Miliband. Left, Bill Rammell greets David Miliband when he visited Harlow in August to drum up support for his leadership bid

"Ed will prove to be an incredibly effective leader for the Labour Party," he said. "There is no great ideological schism in the Labour Party with Ed on the one side and David on the other."

"The party is more united than in previous generations."

Mr Rammell said the initial response among voters to Ed was positive.

"After Ed's election I was immediately on the doorstep on Sunday and there was a good response to him," he said.

"Obviously there has got to be time for people to get to know him and he is going to want to make his mark and take the party forward."

"Labour has achieved a lot and Ed recognises that. The Labour Party is the true progressive party and has got to be the radical party."

"I have absolutely no doubt that Ed Miliband will make a better Prime Minister than either David Cameron or Nick Clegg."

Noisy neighbour taken to court for breaching abatement notice

A NOISY neighbour who played loud music and shouted at "unbearable" levels has been fined £525 and ordered to pay Harlow Council more than £1,100 in costs.

Kori Homan, of Little Pynchons, was served with a noise abatement notice in February by environmental health officers after neighbours complained that music and shouting often reached intolerable levels at night and during the early hours.

However, the problem continued and on Friday Homan was convicted at Harlow Magistrates Court of three breaches of the abatement notice.

Homan, who did not attend the hearing, was fined £175 for each offence and ordered to pay £1121.93 costs.

Afterwards, Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment policy working group, said: "The noisy behaviour of Mr Homan has been causing misery to his neighbours and it simply can't go on."

"Despite being given a warning, Mr Homan continued to disrupt people's right to peace and quiet in their own homes."

"The council will take people to court if they continue to be noisy and don't change their behaviour."

locks and all emergency services should have keys to open them."

A spokeswoman for the East of England Ambulance Service said service chiefs were keen to discuss a review of access procedures with both district and county councils to prevent similar problems in the future.

"The crew didn't have keys to the site and we will review our procedures," she added.

Charity ladies pedal to Paris

THREE workmates saddled up for a gruelling London to Paris bike ride in aid of two local charities.

Kier Harlow colleagues Gaynor Watson, Sue Grosvenor and Kim Mayhew pedalled 240 miles in three days to raise more than £1,600 for St Clare Hospice and Harlow Community Chest.

On their journey they had to contend with torrential rain, swarms of flies and "crazy" Parisian drivers while negotiating some treacherous country roads.

They were followed in a van by Les Cole, Martin Andrew and Mark Rafferty who offered motivational support and acted as tour guides and pace-setters.

Purchasing officer Kim said: "Whoever thought France was a flat country is sorely mistaken. At one point I thought we were climbing the Pyrenees!"

"But what an experience. We loved almost every minute and it makes it even more special to have done it for such a great cause."

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser at St Clare Hospice, praised the women for their efforts.

"We are delighted that Kier Harlow is continuing its support of our charity," she said. "Over the years it has been very generous and been involved with our fundraisers such as the Midnight Walk as well as coming up with its own ways of raising funds for us."

Harlow Community Chest chairman Mike Hayter also expressed his gratitude.

"This donation is so valuable to our organisation and makes such a difference," he said. "As a small charity that solely depends on donations, we really appreciate the special effort the Kier Harlow ladies have made."

The intrepid trio, known as the 'charity ladies' for their tireless efforts, are already gearing up for their next challenge – a sponsored bike trip from Buckingham Palace to Windsor Castle.

Tackling dangers of male obesity

PLAYERS from Harlow Rugby Club proved they were game for a laugh when they teamed up with a local weight-loss firm to film an internet ad raising awareness of male obesity.

The lads stripped off and hit the showers for the LighterLife commercial – now a Youtube hit – highlighting the results of a recent survey which found one in 10 men are unable to see their private parts because of their protruding bellies.

Around 30 per cent of the men surveyed also admitted drinking alcohol three times a week, while one in 10 confessed to boozing daily and never taking part in any exercise.

Rugby player Rob Kelly said: "It was a strange thing to be asked to take part in, but as ever, once I'd spoken to the lads about it they were all game for a laugh – especially when they knew it was also helping to raise some more serious issues."

"It's most definitely the first we've let a camera into the shower room at the rugby club. We're hoping it might not be the last and that the team can take part in a sequel!"

Paws for thought

ALL creatures great and small will be celebrated during a paws-in-the-pews pet service at a Harlow church this Sunday.

Worshippers are being invited to bring along their animals to St Mary at Latton Church in First Avenue.

The service will be led by animal-mad vicar Reverend Lynn Hurry, the proud owner of a menagerie of dogs, cats, rats and chickens.

"Animals are an extension of the family and very much beloved by their owners," she said. "People are very upset when their animals become ill or die, but by honouring the significance of these special family members, the service can provide joy and comfort to their owners."

"It's amazing how well the animals get along together in this special church, but we do encourage pet owners to bring their pets in carriers or on leashes for their pet's safety and the wellbeing of everyone."

The service starts at 4pm and visitors will be encouraged to make donations to local dog rescue charity Mutts In Distress.

Cheers for Lisa

THE manageress of an Old Harlow pub raised a glass to her success after scooping a customer satisfaction award.

Lisa Bridewell, landlady of the Green Man in Mulberry Green, was one of 10 outstanding managers across Punch Pub Company's network of 800 watering holes across the UK to receive a Best Award from her employers.

She said: "I've received a lot of support from my business development manager, Katie Watson, as well as from my team. It's ultimately down to a team effort that we've won."

All smiles at pub fundraiser

FUNDRAISERS aimed high when they took part in a charity darts match at a Harlow pub.

Held at The Archers Dart in Coppice Hatch, the challenge saw regulars take on the pub's own ladies' darts team.

The match was followed by a live performance from covers band Triple X, a free buffet and a raffle. The evening was capped off with a disco and karaoke, raising £300 for local cancer charity Silver Smile.

The charity provides help and support to families coping with cancer by arranging days out and respite care.

Landlord Paul Jackson told the Star: "Silver Smile is a fantastic local charity that gives so much to the community and we just wanted to give them something back."

"I'd like to say a big thank-you to everyone who came along on the night. We're hoping to organise another fundraising event in the near future."

D-Day for responses to council structure consultation

THE opportunity for residents, business and local organisations to have a say on how Harlow Council should make decisions ends tomorrow (Friday).

Councillors are seeking views on whether the authority should switch to an executive style of decision making with a leader and cabinet or a directly elected mayor and cabinet, or retain its current committee structure.

Views can be submitted online at www.harlow.gov.uk/executiveconsultation or by email sent to executiveconsultation@harlow.gov.uk.

A dedicated website has been running since July and information has been sent out widely to local businesses and organisations. Since August there has been a public display in the Civic Centre and three public meetings have also been held.

Cash cuts could hit new nursery

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Firms facing a crackdown on waste disposal

BUSINESSES were this week warned they could face fines of up to £5,000 if they are caught dumping waste illegally.

Harlow Council will be carrying out checks on all firms in the town next month to ensure they are following the correct procedures for the disposal of commercial waste.

The crackdown comes after a significant number of businesses were found to have no arrangements in place or awareness of their legal responsibilities.

Under the Environmental Protection Act, commercial premises must store and dispose of their waste in a safe and legal manner and keep records of waste transfer documentation for two years.

Businesses not complying with the regulations could face fines of up to £5,000.

Joel Charles, chairman of the council's community & citizenship policy working group, said: "Businesses should be aware that they, like householders, are still responsible if they pay someone else to take the waste away and it ends up fly-tipped so they must use a company with a waste carrier licence."

"There are examples of where waste is not contained properly and this can attract rats and make shopping and business areas look untidy which doesn't help anyone's business."

"This also contributes to litter in the street costing council taxpayers money to pick up."

STAFF at a Harlow nursery fear they will not be able to afford to equip their newly built pre-school building following the Government's planned public spending freeze.

Kidz OK will soon move into new purpose-built premises on the Little Parndon School site in Park Mead, the construction of which was funded by a capital buildings grant secured through the last Government's Sure Start scheme.

But pre-school manager Debbie Newman is concerned that spending cuts announced by the new coalition Government will mean the new building remains little more than an empty shell.

"The nursery simply can't afford to kit the centre out," she told the Star.

"We looking to double our intake from 50 to 100 children and need lots of new equipment to cater for the extra kids, but it's looking very unlikely that we're going to get any help from the Government."

"The building is basically an empty shell; we need cookers,

WORRIED: Pre-school manager Debbie Newman fears that Government spending cuts will impact on the new nursery (photo: HAR0681549) appliances, classroom furniture, climbing frames, sports equipment... the list goes on.

"What's the point of having this lovely new building if we can't even use it to its full potential?"

The nursery currently operates out of St Thomas's Church Hall in Hodings Road, but increased demand from the local community has necessitated a move to larger premises.

"We're the only sessional nursery in the area and we have a huge demand for our services, which is why we decided to expand.

"It will be such a shame if we don't have the proper resources to make the most of our new home. We'll be doing all we can to raise money to buy the new equipment for ourselves."

When contacted by the Star this week, Harlow MP Rob Halfon said he was eager to meet with staff at the nursery to discuss their concerns.

"Obviously we don't yet know the full details of the spending review but I'm keen to speak with the nursery manager and staff about their concerns over resources," he said.

"Even though we are in difficult economic times, it is important to make sure that there is adequate nursery provision in Harlow."

Fatal flat blaze started by discarded cigarette

A DISABLED man described as a "gentle giant" by his family died after carelessly discarding a cigarette, an inquest heard.

The body of housebound Stephen Page (56), who also suffered from a mental illness, was found by firefighters in his burning flat in Tithelands on July 5.

He had been kneeling at the foot of his bed when he died.

Assistant divisional officer David Barritt, of the Essex Fire and Rescue Service, told the inquest that neighbours John Robinson and Michael Yap had tried in vain to rescue Mr Page after the fire broke out in the ground floor flat at around 11pm.

The two men broke through the front door but were beaten back by the heat which was so intense it melted a firefighter's visor.

A thermal imaging camera found Mr Page's body. He died from extensive burns and smoke inhalation.

Essex assistant deputy coroner Eleanor McGann told Tuesday's inquest that both Mr Page's sister and a carer, who had visited him the day before the fire, had said he was "cheery and chatty" when they last spoke to him.

The former laboratory assistant, who suffered from swelling of his legs which left him unable to walk without a frame or stick, was known to smoke in bed while listening to music.

An ashtray full of cigarette ends and other smoking materials was found in the bedroom.

Investigating fire officers had used a sniffer dog to rule out the use of any accelerant, and ADO Barritt told the inquest the fire was probably caused by discarded smoking materials.

Golfer Alan's cash drive for cancer charity

A TERMINALLY-ill golfer has battled through the pain barrier to raise thousands of pounds for a leading cancer charity.

Despite having to undergo grueling bouts of chemotherapy, Alan Hills (32), of Torkildsen Way, Harlow, has organised charity golf days at some of the UK's top courses, including Stoke Park and Brocket Hall. To date he has raised £2,300 for Macmillan Cancer Support.

His latest fundraiser took place closer to home at North Weald Golf Club on Sunday, where more than 100 people turned out to show their support for his campaign.

The former golf semi-pro, pictured sixth left in the photograph above, told the Star his latest fundraiser had been a fantastic success.

"I was really pleased with the brilliant turnout and despite the wet weather it was a fantastic day," he said. "I even managed to play myself although I got absolutely soaked!"

Alan's life was turned upside-down in 2007 when he was first diagnosed with testicular cancer.

After four months of chemotherapy he was given the all-clear, but the cancer returned just six months later, spreading to his lymph nodes.

He spent a further 22 weeks in hospital and then underwent surgery to remove all the nodes from the left side of his body.

Once again he thought he had beaten the disease, but last year doctors told him the cancer had spread to his lungs.

"I've been given a year," he said. "I've had to come to terms with my illness and now just take each day as it comes."

"But I'm not going to give up and I'm staying optimistic that I can still beat this disease."

"I've experienced first-hand the incredible work that Macmillan do for the benefit of both cancer patients and their families and really wanted to give something back to the charity as a thank-you for their help and support."

Coffee hosts create a stir for worthy cause

HUNDREDS of people across Harlow enjoyed a cuppa for charity on Friday as local shops and businesses took part in the World's Biggest Coffee Morning.

The annual initiative invites individuals and businesses to hold their own coffee-themed fundraisers in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support.

Among those taking part in Harlow were, pictured right, staff at the Park Inn hotel in Southern Way, town centre clothing store Bonmarché and Water Lane Primary School on Broadley Road.

Macmillan fundraising intern Ed Stevenson said: "I would like to thank everyone who took part and tucked away kilos of cakes and gallons of coffee for our cause.

"It was a great event and once again the people of Harlow got behind us wholeheartedly, helping us raise thousands of pounds to fund our services.

"We rely almost entirely on donations and without all the hard work from our coffee morning hosts and goodwill from those who go along to their events, we wouldn't be able to keep offering the fantastic services that so many people rely on."

Halfon applauds council tax band freeze

THE Government's decision to shelve plans for a review of council tax banding valuations will save the average Harlow family more than £300 per year, according to the town's MP.

Communities Secretary Eric Pickles announced this week that tax bands will not be revalued during the term of the current Parliament.

Property prices have soared during the 17 years since the last revaluation but the decision means householders will not face council tax increases based on property inflation.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon told the Star: "This is great news and will be welcomed by everyone who has seen their finances hit as a result of the economic downturn."

"The last thing they would want at the present time is a hefty increase in their council tax bills. These are probably the biggest domestic bills that people face each year and it will be a relief to many that the bands are not going to be reassessed.

"Any banding change would result in householders having to pay several hundred pounds more and this increase would have hit many people hard, particularly the poorer families."

The Government said a rise from Band D – the benchmark for council tax – to Band E would cost households an extra £320 a year.

College students still face treacherous road crossing

SIR, It was back in May when the Harlow College student union ran a strong campaign resulting in a significant number of people signing a petition calling for a safer crossing in Velizy Avenue.

This led to the newly elected Harlow MP Robert Halfon contacting Essex County Council and subsequently receiving an assurance that the crossing would be upgraded to a toucan crossing system before the start of the new September term.

We now read in the Star that, at an estimated cost of £9.3m, work has started on the new university building on the college site. But to date there is no firm evidence that, at a fraction of this figure, the Velizy Avenue safety improvements will actually be implemented.

Indeed, councillors have recently been vacillating on whether to install the cheaper puffin crossing system rather than the more expensive toucan system.

Mr Halfon recently stated that Harlow College is rapidly becoming one of the best in the UK. However, from a health and safety standpoint, the main access provision to the college has to be one of the worst.

Students are still being subjected to the daily abuse from inconvenienced motorists whilst negotiating a thoroughly treacherous route to the college via an inadequate, outdated crossing provision which barely allows a handful of students to cross safely at one time.

If they are lucky enough to beat a flashing amber light, there is still the further challenge of dodging cars exiting from the multi-storey car park, accessing the college from the southbound Velizy Avenue slip road or exiting the college itself. As if this isn't bad enough, there are now construction vehicles to contend with.

In my opinion students deserve a medal, let alone certificates, for just making it on to campus.

Ban on lorry parking

SIR, The residential parking problems in Harlow could be significantly reduced if commercial vans and lorries were banned from the residential streets and kept on the premises of industrial parks and business

Vandalised sheep statue shames our town

SIR, This must be one of the saddest photographs taken in Harlow recently, just a leg of a sheep statue left in the town centre after probably some drunken lout, who wanted to show off to his friends, paid it some attention by breaking the rest of the body.

What an indictment of our town, which has recently become known for its exceptional statuary.

It has been fun, particularly for the children of Harlow, to try to locate all the sheep statues gracing many buildings and places of interest around the town. Artists have taken the trouble to paint and decorate each individual sheep for our pleasure. My husband has been photographing as many as we found in order to keep a record and I was upset to find this evidence of wilful vandalism.

premises where they belong.

It's not just solely commercial vehicles that are the problem, though. For a distance of about 150 metres in the area where I live we have a variety of demolition derby type cars, horse trailers and vehicle recovery trucks parked in or around handstandings that are supposed to be used as car parking spaces. It seems certain residents have commandeered them for their own personal use.

Frankly, it is an eyesore to have this kind of thing in residential areas. It is also very dangerous, especially when cars are trying to pull out of turnings or garage blocks as you do not have a clear view to manoeuvre safely.

As for pedestrians - especially children, people in wheelchairs or people pushing buggies - who want to cross the road, it is impossible for them to do so safely.

I would be very interested to know what other Harlow residents think about this subject.

Park is place to skate

SIR, I must take issue with the writer of the letter about skateboarding in the vicinity of Edmunds Tower ("Skateboarders like a change of scene", September 2).

The skateboarders now have a custom-built area in the Town Park which can be used for free. There is easy access, it is on a bus route and away from residential areas.

It is not acceptable that kids should expect residents to tolerate the incessant clack clack of their skateboards together with the noise which accompanies this, as well as any damages caused. It amounts to absolute disregard for the local people and their attitude can be very intimidating.

The world does not exist for kids alone. Other people deserve consideration.

Keep dogs on a lead

SIR, I am writing to complain about the number of dog owners who I see without their pets on a lead.

I live in the Chase area of Newhall, overlooking the green. There are so many children and walkers around that area and I am shocked to see so many dogs running loose.

I recently witnessed a woman walking her black Staffordshire terrier. Even though the dog had a leather harness on she didn't feel the need to keep it on a lead, insisting to every passerby it leapt at that "he's friendly".

I also saw two women with greyhounds (both on a lead and muzzled) walking past as the Staffie bounded towards them. Fortunately one of the women had a stick and managed to protect her dogs as the Staffie bit the stick instead of her greyhounds.

Eventually the Staffie's owner managed to get it under control, put it on a lead and hurried off. I can't imagine what would have happened had a young mother with a baby in a pushchair been walking by.

I think if people choose to own these dogs they should certainly be kept on a lead in public, if not muzzled.

Housing priorities

SIR, It might seem ironic that I should suggest this, but in my opinion it is time for local politicians to butt out of Councillor Lee Dangerfield's personal affairs.

If the housing fiasco has achieved anything it is a lack of confidence in a system many people rely upon in Harlow.

Surely in such circumstances it should be the responsibility of the chief executive and head of housing at Harlow Council to reassure local residents that either the system is not open to abuse by anyone, least of all elected members, or that flaws have been identified, rectified and misuse dealt with appropriately?

Harlow Council's housing waiting list is long enough and whether local residents are at the bottom or nearing the top in terms of priority, they need an assurance that they will be treated professionally, fairly and equitably.

MP pleads for reprieve over courts threat

HEAD TO HEAD: Robert Halfon with Home Secretary Theresa May and Essex Police Chief Constable Jim Barker-McCardle (s)

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has told Home Secretary Theresa May the closure of Harlow Magistrates Court would have a major impact on the town.

The proposal by the Ministry of Justice to axe both the magistrates and county court buildings was discussed at a meeting between Mr Halfon, Mrs May and the Chief Constable of Essex Police, Jim Barker-McCardle.

Both Mr Halfon and the Chief Constable voiced concern at the possible consequences of the proposal if it goes ahead.

If Harlow's magistrates court is closed the public and police officers will have to travel to Chelmsford, a round trip of more than 40 miles.

"I believe a magistrates' court is vital for Harlow as we are a major growth town," said Mr Halfon. "The Ministry of Justice already admits that our court is a busy and thriving place which is used Monday to Friday."

"If we lost the court, one potential threat to policing would be a delay to the issue of search warrants out of office hours as police officers would have to be driven to Chelmsford, sworn in front of a magistrate and then driven back to Harlow."

Mr Halfon described the meeting as productive, adding: "The Home Secretary was confident that, despite the tough decisions that we have to take on the economy, Essex Police will be well-placed to continue their work in Harlow."

"Essex Police, for example, is committed to keeping Harlow Police Station open 24 hours a day."

Mr Halfon also raised his proposal for volunteer railway specials following the spate of deaths on rail lines near Harlow's stations.

"Their sole focus would be to patrol the platforms to identify any suspicious behaviour, and prevent it," he said.

"They would be community volunteers and would have similar powers to other special constables," he said.

"Hopefully, this will help to reduce fatalities on the London to Harlow line which have been a problem in recent years."

Author angry at sales 'ban' on new book

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

A ROW has broken out between Harlow Council and a local historian after his recently published book about the history of the authority was banned from sale at the Museum of Harlow.

The 208-page A Civic History of Harlow Council 1955-1985 by Ron Bill was officially launched at St John's ARC on Friday.

However, he claims the Conservative-run council has refused to allow the book, which charts the authority's first 30 years under Labour rule, to be stocked or sold at the museum.

It also turned down Mr Bill's request to launch the book in the Gibberd Gallery at the Civic Centre.

Mr Bill, who has raised £4,000 to publish the book himself, said he was extremely disappointed with the decision.

"I hope the council will lift its ban on the book being stocked and sold at the Museum of Harlow as I am anxious that local people should be able to buy copies locally," he said.

"I have been told that they will not buy any copies until they see a copy of the final printed book, which considering this is a book about their organisation is ridiculous.

"It's clear to anyone taking a brief glance at it that this is not a political book."

Mr Bill, who is a regular contributor to the Star's Nostalgia column, had previously offered to show council officers draft copies but the authority did not take up his offer.

Joel Charles, chairman of the council's community and citizenship working group, said: "We haven't refused to stock the book at the museum. We have asked to see a copy of the book before we stock it and we still haven't seen a copy."

On Friday more than 250 people attended the book launch, including Harlow MP Robert Halfon, Harlow Civic Society chairman Stan Newens and Jason Cowley, editor of the New Statesman magazine.

Mr Bill said he was "overwhelmed and overjoyed" by the turnout. "I spent many years working on the book because I'm proud of my town and I'm proud of the achievements of the council in its first 30 years of life," he said.

Top 10 honour for PAH knee surgeon

A SURGEON working at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital has been rated among the top 10 for knee replacement surgery by a national newspaper.

Orthopaedic consultant Paul Allen was the only knee surgeon working in the East of England to appear in the Daily Mail list after being nominated by fellow specialists.

Mr Allen started working at PAH in 1987 and has spent most of his career in Harlow. He currently holds the position of lead clinician for orthopaedics at the hospital.

Developments pioneered by Mr Allen during his 23 years at PAH include the creation of a dedicated ward for hip fracture patients and informative short animations for pre-operative patients.

He also works at the private Rivers Hospital in Sawbridgeworth where he provides a range of bone and joint procedures for private patients.

Mr Allen said: "It is very pleasing to have received such an endorsement from my peers."

Racist yob jailed for flouting ASBO

A RACIST yob has been jailed for 12 months after breaching an anti-social behaviour order by racially abusing an Asian newsagent.

John Hennigan, who wore a T-shirt bearing the name of neo-Nazi skinhead band Screwdriver to his sentence hearing, had already been shown leniency by a judge in January this year after breaching the order for the fifth time.

But as Hennigan (44), of Brockles Mead, Harlow, sat in the dock at Chelmsford Crown Court on Thursday, Judge Anthony Goldstaub told him the courts would not disregard defiance of its orders.

The court heard that just three months after

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

breaching the ASBO for the fifth time, Hennigan racially assaulted a newsagent by throwing a display stand of sweets at him.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting, said Hennigan went into the shop at Adams House where the owner's brother, Satpall Mathu, was serving. At first the two men chatted amicably and Mr Mathu gave Hennigan a can of beer because it was his birthday.

But after two other customers left, Hennigan claimed they had stolen something from his rucksack and began arguing with Mr Mathu, who took back the can of beer and asked him to leave the premises.

Mr Stevens said Hennigan refused and shouted "Paki bastard" at Mr Mathu. He then started to throw sweets from displays and the counter and picked up a stand and threw it towards Mr Mathu.

The two men then fell to the floor in a scuffle and a witness called police. As Hennigan was led from the shop by police officers he spat at Mr Mathu.

The court heard that Hennigan was given an anti-social behaviour order at Harlow County Court in 2005 on the application of the Harlow Council, despite being acquitted at crown court of a charge of arson at an address where he was staying.

The ASBO banned him from acting anti-socially, using abusive language or harassment towards any member of the public and barred him from being drunk in public.

Christopher Grout, representing the defendant at Thursday's sentence hearing, said the ASBO was not imposed for repeated anti-social behaviour and claimed Hennigan's breaches were generally for being found with a can of beer in public by police.

"The incident in the shop escalated because he believed people had taken alcohol from him," said Mr Grout. "There was no physical contact between him and the shopkeeper."

Speaking from the dock, Hennigan said: "I've never had a problem with drink in my life but the council put drink on my ASBO."

Fireman saves driver seconds before flames engulf his car

AN off-duty firefighter has been praised for saving the life of a motorist who was trapped in his car after an accident. The incident happened in St Leonard's Road, Nazeing, shortly before 8pm on Thursday.

Incident commander Steve Foster said off-duty firefighter Brant Baker (43), a crew manager based at Enfield fire station, saw the car on its roof with flames coming out from under the bonnet while on his way to pick up his 14-year-old son. "He thought he could see the silhouette of someone in the driver's seat and went to investigate," said Mr Foster.

"When he got the door he realised that the driver was still in his car. He kicked the door open and pulled the man to safety. Seconds later the car burst into flames.

"If it hadn't been for the brave actions of this off duty firefighter the driver would almost certainly have been killed."

The driver suffered only minor injuries and was taken to the Princess Alexandra Hospital by paramedics. Fire crews from Harlow, Waltham Abbey and Loughton arrived at the scene just before 8pm and extinguished the fire within 50 minutes.

Burglars steal £9,000 worth of gems

BUGGLARS have escaped with a haul of distinctive jewellery worth £9,000 from a house near Epping.

More than 20 items of jewellery and three antique jewellery boxes, along with an iPod and two cameras, were taken from the property at Thornwood between 8.30am and 9.30pm on Wednesday, September 8.

PC Jacqui Mileham, of Epping CID, said: "Some of the stolen items of jewellery are very distinctive, such as an antique ivory carved elephant on a 9ct gold chain, a 46-diamond 14ct gold tennis bracelet and two cultured pearl necklaces.

"The three antique jewellery boxes made from mahogany, rosewood and leather are also distinctive."

Anyone with information about the burglary should contact PC Mileham on 0300 333 4444.

NO HARD FEELINGS

As the nights draw in and we spend more time indoors, now's the time to embrace the soft and squashy, the warm and welcoming and the downright decadent in interior design. Soft edges reign, sharp corners are banished and colours are muted, soft and mellow.

Choose soothing mixes of natural materials like polished woods, natural fibres and neutral backdrops.

Fishpools Autumn/Winter Collections exude all of the above in their own inimitable style. Take the gorgeous over scale Plaza Chaise End Sofa in a striking Cavalli Galliano charcoal fabric. Or surround yourself with the glove soft leather of the winged back Natuzzi Amadeus chair. And don't forget the floor. Choose from an extensive selection of foot warming rugs from their vast carpets and rugs department.

So don't get down about the changing seasons, get cosy, snuggle up and unwind.

THOUSANDS of Christians file into a London football stadium – worshipping, praying, connecting.

They gather to celebrate Pentecost, the birth of the Christian church, and join fellow worshippers in a Global day of Prayer.

Among the crowd is devout Christian Eddie Rouse. He watches as a group of individuals are ushered on to the stage to explain their work in the community.

They are street pastors. They fight crime in their own way – in teams of four, offering kerbside counselling, first aid, prayers and assistance to binge-drinkers at the weekend.

The concept appeals to Mr Rouse, who's already starting to worry about what the future holds for his son when he starts spending his weekends at nightclubs in Harlow.

That event may have taken place more than two years ago but it resonated with Mr Rouse. And when earlier this year he heard the street pastors scheme was about to arrive in Harlow he was more than willing to participate.

What's more, he fit the bill: a regular churchgoer of more than a year and well over the age of 18.

After 12 weeks of training he was ready to take to the streets on a Friday night as part of a team offering assistance and prayer wherever it was needed.

"I just feel that there's an awful lot of prayer that's gone into this for a long time and I really believe the Lord wants us there to shine a light onto the town," he said.

Street pastors have been around for over seven years. Gaining momentum from humble beginnings in Brixton, the organisation has amassed thousands of volunteers and 125 teams across the UK. They arrived in Harlow earlier this month.

It was Reverend Les Isaacs who came up with the original concept and fought for the development and survival of the scheme in its early days.

He was disheartened by the night life and gang crimes in south London and wanted to take action. His idea, adapted from a Jamaican initiative, was to send out groups of trained Christians into neighbourhoods suffering from high crime rates and encourage them to interact with the community and offer support without any agenda.

A force for good on the streets of Harlow

Miraculously, the initiative did make a real difference. Areas where the pastors were introduced slowly began to see a reduction in crime.

In 2005 a nine-month police evaluation in Southwark recorded up to a 95 per cent fall in calls about public disorder whenever the street pastors were out patrolling. In May of this year Chief Inspector Andy Boyd credited the group with reducing crime and improving the safety of Wantage, a town in Oxfordshire.

A group of vicars, pastors and local Christian leaders had heard about the success of the initiative and contacted police forces in Hertfordshire and Essex about the scheme. Broxbourne's

'We weren't sure how we would be received but we have been hugely encouraged by the response we've had so far' contingent hit the streets back in 2007 and Bishop's Stortford followed a year later.

Chelmsford launched its team more recently and it seemed like the perfect place for those interested in launching the scheme in Harlow to get a first-hand glimpse at how the group worked.

Local police officers and a number of church leaders travelled to the town and were impressed by what they saw. Several meetings followed last spring before parent organisation the Ascension Trust, headed by Reverend Isaacs, supplied training materials, their own representative and prepared the necessary insurance.

When the street pastors finally hit the streets of Harlow they were backed by 'prayer warriors' operating from a control centre in St Paul's Church. Up to four warriors will provide real-time backup for the street team by continuously praying for them and when possible, the street team will dial the church in response to a request for prayer.

"We can pray through the phone to the people on the ground or we might just hang up and pray for them," said co-ordinator Kinglsey Yeboah, recognising that some circumstances might make it difficult to pray for individuals over the phone.

Power of prayer aside, the team obviously cannot handle every situation. They depend on police, door staff and the CCTV control room if they are confronted by violent behaviour.

"The fact that we are Christians only means we want to keep people safe," said team member Giles Wright.

He joined the ranks in April when he attended a forum for Christians held at the Civic Centre. The idea immediately appealed to him; he could help out the church without being accused of preaching while at the same time putting his first aid skills to good use.

"We're looking forward to doing more and offering any support we can. And, of course, we'll pray for people if they ask us to," he said.

And Harlow's clubbers and pub-goers have asked, with the team receiving prayer requests for lost family members, failed relationships and even exam results in the first weeks of the scheme.

The concept may seem bizarre to non-believers but pulling on the water-proof jacket and matching cap imprinted with the street pastor logo is clearly a source of pride for this dedicated team.

"We weren't sure how we would be received but we've been hugely encouraged by the response we've had so far," said Giles.

"Everyone seems very pleased to have our presence. I'm confident the scheme will prove to be a real success in Harlow."

Police praised for action to tackle anti-social behaviour

THE work of Essex Police in tackling anti-social behaviour has been highlighted in a national report.

A study by Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Constabulary said anti-social behaviour should be a key priority for police because of the effect it can have on people's everyday lives.

HMIC inspectors highlighted the work of Essex Police in dealing with ASB problems which, according to the report, were generally a low or moderate issue of concern to people living in the county.

In Essex this year there are 4,233 fewer victims of ASB than last year – a 10 per cent fall in reported incidents compared to the year before. In all five Essex Police areas there have been noticeable falls in the number of problems.

The Chief Constable of Essex Police, Jim Barker-McCardle, said: "I have personally insisted since I arrived in Essex that we respond actively to calls from the public when there is a concern about anti-social behaviour.

"This survey shows that as we do that, people are reassured and say that the situation has been resolved or improved. The police can't solve all these issues alone and we value the involvement of key partners such as councils and others and particularly of local community groups.

"HMIC usefully highlights areas we can improve further and I'm very glad to report that we have already made great progress.

"I have to balance ASB work with other vital police work such as combating serious organised crime, but I promise people in Essex that we will keep on improving our work, with you, to reduce anti-social behaviour."

Robert Chambers, chairman of Essex

Police Authority, added: "Anti-social behaviour can have a serious impact on people's lives and I am pleased that tackling this is one of the force's top priorities.

"I am confident that Essex Police will do all it can to further improve the service that the people of Essex receive, continuing to keep our county a safe and pleasant place to live."

A MUCH-travelled Harlow centenarian celebrated her 100th birthday in style as dozens of family members and friends raised a glass of bubbly to toast the occasion.

Mother-of-ten Ellen Braganza, of Hadley Grange, celebrated her big day in the company of more 100 well-wishers at the Church Langley Community Centre on Saturday.

Her youngest son, Craig Braganza, said: "She was over the moon to reach her 100th birthday and was so chuffed to receive a telegram from the Queen congratulating her.

"It was such a monumental occasion. I must admit I got a bit choked up when I made my speech."

Mrs Braganza was born in India where her father was based during his time in the Army. Since then she travelled extensively around the world.

She came to the UK in 1957 but after five years headed off to places as far afield as Africa, Pakistan and then back to her birth country of India.

Mrs Braganza finally settled in France in 2003 but returned to England last year to be looked after by family.

She is hoping, however, to go back to France next year.

She has devoted her life to looking after her 10 children along with numerous grandchildren and great grandchildren.

MILWARDS: The school has received a gold award from the Woodland Trust for its green-fingered activities.

The Green Tree Schools scheme rewards schools every time they participate in learning events, projects or initiatives provided by the trust.

New trees have been planted in the school grounds while the children have planted seeds and visited woodlands.

Headteacher Angela Callaway said: "We are fortunate to have fantastic grounds at Milwards and we have enhanced these with our beehives, a flower highway and by using the grounds for Forest Schools. This is a favourite activity with our children."

Karen Letten, schools development officer for the Woodland Trust, said: "The scheme promotes a range of opportunities, each designed to stimulate a child's imagination and sustain their interest in nature. "The achievements of the school are recognised through an awards scheme in which they receive points for taking part in activities. As they reach milestones within the project they receive bronze, silver and finally an attractive wooden plaque which acknowledges they've achieved the environmental accolade of a gold award."

JEROUNDS: Pupils were treated to tips and advice on how to keep in shape and eat healthily at a special workshop.

The school invited the Beactive Healthy Living Workshop – whose motto is Be Healthy, Be Active and Be Happy – for the day to help the pupils learn about the benefits of a balanced diet.

The workshops used a variety of games to help the children understand how important it is to lead an active and healthy lifestyle.

School spokesperson Steph Miles said: "The children absolutely loved it, so much so that we have booked the workshop again for next September

"Their favourite game was to take a skeleton provided by the workshop, dismantle it and then put it back together, learning as they went."

POTTER STREET PRIMARY:

Drivers will have no difficulty seeing the school's pupils after they were given fluorescent jackets to keep them safe. The children were presented with high visibility jackets by Harlow Community Transport so they can be seen at all times while walking or cycling to and from school.

Jane Chivral, the school's lollipop lady, said: "Potter Street is now a very busy place with roadworks that are continuing until February so it is essential the children are visible to oncoming traffic. They are absolutely over the moon with the jackets.

"We are running a scheme where they are not allowed to cross the road unless they have their jackets on. If they don't then they have their name written down in my book!"

PAUL THOMAS GODDARD

24.2.64 - 5.10.09
One year has passed without you
Dear Paul.
*A heartache no one can heal.
There is always a face before us,
A voice we would love to hear,
A smile we can always remember,
And deep in our hearts there's our picture more precious than silver or gold.*
So many wonderful memories from the moment you were born.
Yours forever and a day.
Mum and Dad.

PATMORE. Les. The family of the late Les Patmore wish to thank all relatives & friends for their kind messages of sympathy & donations to St Clare Hospice. A big thank you to staff at St Clare's for their support at our sad loss.

Raising awareness of the dangers of stroke

SHOPPERS in Harlow town centre were offered free blood pressure checks as part of a drive to raise awareness about the importance of a healthy heart and the danger of strokes. Staff from the East of England Ambulance Service were on hand at the Asda supermarket in The Water Gardens to carry out the checks and offer advice on the tell-tale signs of someone suffering a stroke. The ambulance service is supporting the Essex Cardiac and Stroke Network with a series of events across the county, the first of which was in Harlow.

Gina Pryor, head of patient and public involvement, said: "We were really pleased with the number of people who took the time to see us and check their blood pressure.

"Many people were pleasantly surprised they were within a normal range and those who were in the higher range were given some advice."

Leventhorpe is an exciting place in which to learn and a caring environment where every student is both academically challenged and carefully supported.

Recognised at both county and national level we are very proud of our record of academic success and the impact this has on the life chances of our students. This year 92% of Year 11 students gained 5 or more A*-C at GCSE and every one gained at least 5 passes - this placed us 15th in the Guardian GCSE league tables.

From one-hit wonders to 'Wonderwall'

By DAN PHILLIPS
 daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FROM humble beginnings come great things. And that is certainly true of one of the protagonists in this week's trip down memory lane.

It is the story of how one man went from managing bands in Harlow to taking the reigns of Britpop heavyweights Oasis, all in the space of just 10 years.

The story came to our attention after we asked readers to share their memories of Harlow band The Vaqueros, who in 1985 were hoping to become the next big thing.

We reported how Marcus Russell, then a partner in a small music management company, told the Star he had taken on the band after listening to a demo tape.

Our request for more information was a shot in the dark but reaped rich rewards when reader Kevin Jones got in touch.

"Marcus was a local teacher at a secondary school in Harlow who had a dream to one day make it big in music management," writes Kevin. "He went on to manage not only The Vaqueros but also local one-hit wonders called Roman Holiday.

"The last I heard of Marcus he was managing a small beat combo from Manchester. Now what were they called? Oh yeah, Oasis!"

Welshman Marcus, pictured right, managed the Mancunian band since the mid 1990s and oversaw their meteoric rise from indie beat merchants to world famous rock band.

Unfortunately, he did not achieve the same success with The Vaqueros. Kevin thinks they drifted into obscurity although he was able to tell us more about one member – Mickey Howard.

"Mickey was a very talented multi-instrumentalist," he said. "Several years before The Vaqueros he played drums for Harlow's first, and some say only, true punk band The Sods." Mickey works at a recording studio in Hackney, according to Kevin, who added: "I sometimes see the bass player, Robin Kohler, in Sainsbury's doing his shopping."

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: 1966 World Cup

MORE information has come to light following our reports of international footballers visiting Harlow during the finals of the 1966 World Cup.

Roy Shaw contacted Nostalgia to say he was part of a small team that tried to set up a game against the mighty Uruguay during their stay at the Saxon Inn – now renamed the Park Inn – in Southern Way.

Roy, who played for St Hare FC in the Harlow Sunday League, said: "We wrote to the Uruguayan embassy asking if it would be possible to play a match for charity."

The audacious request was reported in the newspapers and even featured in the Daily Mirror, which quoted an embassy official as saying: "I am sure our team will welcome the opportunity to get acquainted with such a fine representation of your community."

Fans chance to meet stars of world football

FLASHBACK: Nostalgia, September 2

But Roy said the idea was eventually quashed by the game's ruling body in England.

"Unfortunately we were turned down by not only the FA but also the Essex FA as they felt it would be too risky regarding the Uruguayan players getting injuries," he said.

"We met some of the Uruguayan officials at the Saxon Inn and they were equally disappointed as we were."

Mushroom warning

Swimmers at Harlow Pool will receive a warning before the water 'mushroom' in the larger pool is due to explode. The mushroom sprays water but has frightened some younger pool users.

Vandalism arrests

Harlow police say they are confident they have stamped out most of the vandalism in the Katherines area. A spokesman said they expect incidents of criminal damage to drop following a number of arrests.

MP in South Africa

Harlow MP Jerry Hayes travelled to South Africa on a fact-finding mission. He attended a church service with Bishop Desmond Tutu and met the lawyer of imprisoned black rights leader Nelson Mandela.

Raiders target pub

Thieves broke into the Golden Swift pub, in Harberts Road, and raided the fruit and cigarette machine. They made off with cash and cigarettes worth a total of £117 and caused £25-worth of damage.

Divers saddle up for a crazy bicycle race

A GROUP of scuba divers have taken part in one of the world's most unusual sporting contests – an underwater bike race!

The wacky divers marked the end of their season by attempting to cycle along a marked track at the bottom of the world's deepest lake – Lake Baika in Russia.

Fifteen divers took part in the bizarre contest but because of the air in the tyres most struggled at keep their bikes on the lake bed.

Although the freshwater lake reaches depths of around 4,000m, the race took place in shallower waters nearer the shore.

Billed as a bit of fun, the event was filmed by camera crews and the hilarious footage shows the divers struggling to keep their bikes under control.

But diving club boss Andrei

Baranovski said it was interesting to see how the bicycles behaved underwater.

"A bicycle tries to go up; as soon as you put pressure on the pedals it starts standing up," he told reporters.

"That is why the guys had to regulate the centre of the weight and had to sit lower in the saddle in order to move forwards."

The divers hope to turn the race into an annual event but next time they are planning to use heavier bikes!

>>what's going on in Harlow

>>MUSIC Clarinet virtuoso Julian Marc Stringle is re-united with local jazz legend John Petters for what promises to be a memorable night of jazz and swing at St John's ARC in Old Harlow tonight (Thursday). A former member of the John Petters Swing Band, Julian was a well-known face on Harlow's jazz scene in the 1980s and will be looking to recapture some of the old on-stage magic with his former band leader. The performance starts at 8pm and tickets cost £10 on the door or from (01406) 365731.

>>MUSIC Swinging '60s tribute band The Mods run riot at The Playhouse tonight (Thursday) with a raucous rock 'n' roll tribute to some of the era's greatest bands including The Small Faces, The Kinks, The Who, The Doors and Spencer Davis Group. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £16.

>>DANCE The Karen Chapman School Of Dancing hosts its ninth annual showcase at Harlow Playhouse on Saturday, featuring routines in tap, ballet and freestyle dance. The group will put on two performances, the first beginning at 1pm and an early evening show starting at 6pm. Tickets cost £12.

>>MUSIC If you don't know your caxixi from your shekere or crotales then innovative percussion group 4-MALITY have the answers. The quartet will play two shows at The Playhouse on Sunday, cramming scores of weird and wonderful instruments onto the stage for a visually and sonically inspiring show. The group will perform a children's concert at 3pm (tickets £7 adults and £4 children) and an evening show at 7pm (tickets £14 adults and £5 under-25s).

>>ART The Gallery at Parndon Mill hosts an exciting new exhibition dedicated to works of art in glass until October 31. Glasshaus V is the fifth instalment of the popular annual exhibition to be held at the gallery and this year features innovative colour-changing sculptures and works created by members of the world-renowned London Glassblowing Workshop. Admission is free.

Playhouse ready for panto magic

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE Playhouse is hoping to smash box office records for the third year running as it gears up for panto season.

Aladdin opens on December 3 and boasts a star-studded line-up, dazzling costumes and more double entendres than a Carry On boxset.

An exotic tale of magic and mischief, the show will star former EastEnders regular Aaron Sidwell – who played Steven Beale in the popular soap – in the title role, with Byker Grove and Waterloo Road star Holly Matthews stealing hearts as the boy thief's love interest, the beautiful Princess Jasmine.

Chris Stanton, star of BBC's hit drama M.I. High, will be playing evil sorcerer Abanazar, while Paul Leno and Jimmy Burton return to the theatre following well-received stints in last year's panto Cinderella and Easter production Wizard of Oz respectively. They will be joined by the hugely entertaining Tom Swift as Aladdin's daft brother Wishee Washee.

Playhouse manager Scott Ramsay said: "We've really enjoyed putting together a strong cast of seasoned, highly talented performers for this year's show."

"Of course it's great to have actors that people will recognise from other stage or television shows, but casting well-rounded performers with experience of building a strong rapport with audiences is a big priority for us."

Producer Gary Telfer, of New World

Productions, added: "We've worked hard to get a good balance throughout the cast and feel we have something for everyone."

"We're all looking forward to this year's show and know it will be even better than Cinderella."

● Cinderella runs from Friday December 3 to January 3, 2011. For details of performances and ticket prices, contact The Playhouse box office on (01279) 431945.

Comic Clary's career celebration

CAMP-as-Christmas comedy legend Julian Clary brings his outrageous new show to The Playhouse on Wednesday.

The aptly-titled Lord Of The Mince celebrates Julian's glittering 25-year-career in the showbiz spotlight, dealing with how he got to where he is and why he refuses to retire!

Clary is one of the country's most recognisable entertainers, having turned his hand to acting, presenting, writing and even performing as a novice dancer on the BBC's Strictly Come Dancing, where he reached the final.

However, comedy is what Julian is most loved for and he has been a regular face on our television screens in such shows as Sticky Moments, Terry and Julian and It's Only TV But I Like It.

Having already entertained audiences at more than 100 sell-out shows across the UK, Australia and New Zealand, he has extended the tour to run through the autumn people of Britain this autumn, arriving in Harlow next week.

"I can't stop now, I'm 50," he said. "This will be an intimate evening, a celebration no less of my 25 years in the camp spotlight, how I got there and why I refuse to leave."

"Come and see me before they put me in a home for tired old knackers."

● Lord Of The Mince starts at 8pm and tickets cost £20 (£18 concessions). For ticket information, contact (01279) 431945.

The London-based five-piece – who reformed in 2007 following a 24-year hiatus – are best known for the brooding blast of 1981 post-punk paranoia Is Vic There? Support comes from fellow new-wavers London. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £5.

>>SATURDAY London doom-mongers TRC bring their uniquely furious blend of breakneck metal and cheeky repartee on a bill that also includes Your City Is Forgotten, Lower Than Atlantis and I See Atlantis. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £8.

>>SUNDAY Prepare to have your ribs tickled as compere John Mann introduces three top stand-ups at the monthly comedy night. Tonight's bill includes Rainer Hersch, Steve Day and Little Dave. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £5.

>>>EAT PRAY LOVE After her marriage ends in acrimony, Liz Gilbert (Julia Roberts) embarks on a year-long odyssey, heading to Rome where she makes friends with Swedish beauty Sofi (Tuva Novotny), language teacher Giovanni (Luca Argentero) and their coterie, and rediscovers her passion for food. Next she travels to India to find inner peace before returning to Bali to continue her search for food for her wounded soul.

>>>THE HOLE (3D) Susan Thompson (Teri Polo) is forced to uproot her family to a new, secluded neighbourhood. One day while playing in the basement her sons, Dane (Chris Massoglia) and Lucas (Nathan Gamble) discover a trapdoor secured with several padlocks. Foolishly, they decide to remove the locks and open the trapdoor to reveal a seemingly bottomless pit.

>>>THE OTHER GUYS Detectives PK Highsmith (Samuel L Jackson) and Christopher Danson (Dwayne Johnson) are the golden boys of the NYPD, monopolising newspaper headlines with their gung-ho antics. When the two officers are sidelined, hot-headed Terry Hoitz (Mark Wahlberg) and his mild-mannered partner Allen Gamble (Will Ferrell) vie with rival detectives Fosse (Damon Wayans Jr) and Martin (Rob Riggle) to lead the team.

>>>DEVIL Five strangers – security guard Ben (Bokeem Woodbine), mechanic Tony (Logan Marshall-Green), suited salesman Vince (Geoffrey Arend), corporate climber Sarah (Bojana Novakovic) and an older woman (Jenny O'Hara) – are trapped in a lift. One of them turns out to be Satan.

>>>TOY STORY 3 (3D) The toys are mistakenly delivered to a day care centre instead of the attic right before Andy leaves for college and it's up to Woody to convince the other toys that they weren't abandoned and to return home.

>>>TINKER BELL AND THE GREAT FAIRY RESCUE During the fairies' summer visit to the flowering meadows of England, Tinker Bell develops a special bond with a curious child in need of a friend, taking a huge risk that puts her own safety and the future of all fairykind in jeopardy.

>>special screenings

>>>BACK TO THE FUTURE (25th anniversary re-issue) Marty McFly's unforgettable time travel adventure returns to the big screen for one day only.

>>>WE ARE FAMILY Aman (Arjun Rampal) and Maya (Kajol) are divorced and have three children. When Aman introduces Maya and the kids to his new girlfriend Shreya (Kareena Kapoor), the kids end up loathing her and Maya starts to envy her. But when Maya finds she has a serious problem of her own, she ends up with no choice but to turn to Shreya for help.

RODRIGO Cortes's thriller goes back to basics by asking us to invest all of our emotions in just one character who spends the entire film on screen trapped in a single, cramped location.

Not since Sam Rockwell discovered the terrifying secrets of Moon or Tom Hanks found himself a castaway with only a volleyball for company, has the entire weight of a film rested on one actor's shoulders. Truck driver Paul Conroy (Ryan Reynolds) is attacked during a convoy run in Iraq and wakes inside a crudely constructed coffin.

With no obvious way out, Paul discovers a mobile phone with a weak signal and hurriedly calls for help, telling the 911 operator: "I don't know what's going on. I'm buried in a box!"

As anxiety takes hold in the cramped confines of his makeshift prison, Paul discovers that terrorists have placed him in the box and want a $5m ransom.

The terrorist leader, Jabir (Jose Luis Garcia-Perez), is adamant that if Paul wants to see his wife Linda (Samantha Mathis) again, he must pay up.

Dan Brenner (Robert Paterson), an officer who is trained in hostage negotiation, and trucking company rep Alan Davenport (Stephen Tobolowsky) seem powerless to help. The prospects look bleak.

Buried wrings every last drop of tension from a simple dramatic setup, making excellent use of the natural lighting to capture Paul's mounting distress.

Cortes doesn't allow his camera to escape from the subterranean prison for a single second. There are no flashbacks and no fleeting glimpses of the sunshine above the tomb. Instead, the camera cleverly moves around the space over Reynolds' dirty, sweat-drenched body, lit by the flickers of a cigarette lighter or the beam of a torch.

There are whispers of a possible Oscar nomination for Reynolds for his overwrought theatrics. But while he certainly holds our attention, the actor doesn't have the emotional range to take us to the edge with his stricken character and he doesn't always earn our sympathy, culminating in a skin-crawling interlude involving an unexpected visitor to the box.

MADE IN DAGENHAM
certificate 15 1h52m

FOR 187 women machinists employed at Ford's Dagenham assembly plant, the 1960s was a decade when a single act of rebellion changed history.

Disgusted by their lowly standing in the eyes of management compared to the male workers, the women went on strike to protest against unequal pay and sexual discrimination.

The subsequent power struggle with the board of the plant established a precedent for women around the world, proving that a few strong-willed individuals can slay a corporate giant.

The creative team behind Calendar Girls draws inspiration from this true story to craft another hilarious and heartwarming tale of female empowerment.

Blessed with a powerful lead performance from Sally Hawkins, Made In friend Connie (Geraldine James), who is a union rep alongside Alfred Passingham (Bob Hoskins).

When the management, led by Peter Hopkins (Rupert Graves), shows preference to the male workers, Rita joins the negotiations and proves that she is no pushover.

And when her words fall on deaf ears, Rita risks her marriage to plant worker Eddie (Daniel Mays) by persuading the workforce to go on strike and taking their grievances to Secretary of State for Employment, Barbara Castle (Miranda Richardson).

Dagenham dismisses the notion that Essex girls serve only one purpose as the butt of cheap jokes.

As the men in Nigel Cole's film learn to their cost, it is these strong-willed heroines who end up smiling.

Mother of two Rita O'Grady (Sally Hawkins) works in the Ford plant with good

Much-improved two-bed terrace in popular area

LOCATED on the popular Church Langley development, this much improved end-of-terrace home has an en-bloc garage to the rear and a driveway to the front.

Accommodation comprises an entrance hall with laminate wood flooring and storage cupboard, and lounge (13'5 x 14'2) with double glazed door leading on to the rear garden and an understairs storage cupboard.

The kitchen (9'2 x 7'6) features a single drainer sink unit with mixer tap, a range of wall and base units, built-in oven, hob and extractor, and space for a fridge freezer and washing machine.

Upstairs there are two double bedrooms (13'6 x 8'10 & 11'5 x 8'1) and a bathroom with panel bath and shower, low flush WC, wash hand basin with cupboard under and wall mounted mirror cupboard.

The rear garden is enclosed by panel fencing and features a lawned area with block paved patio, flower and shrub border, and timber shed. There is also side pedestrian access.

The en-bloc garage to the rear of the property has an up-and-over door and is equipped with both power and light.

Containing all the latest homes for sale and to let - PLUS Commercial Property

Mondeo gets a new lease of life

By Richard M Hammond

MONDEO man may not have proved as pivotal in the recent general election as he was back in 1997, but at least he can take solace in the fact that in the 13 years since, he has become better looking, more reliable and more powerful.

He may or may not be so pleased to hear that he's also become more exclusive. In the decade and a bit since New Labour entered power on a groundswell of support from the Ford Mondeo driving everyman, the rep-segment staple has been overtaken as the vehicle of choice for motorway journey-men by the premium BMW 3 Series model, with drivers buoyed by a booming economy and an arguably more even distribution of wealth.

A couple of years on from the hardest-hitting recession of a generation all of that seems a long time ago. And now the Ford Mondeo is gunning to bring some of those premium saloon drivers back into its fold as the age of austerity hits home.

There are one or two problems, however. Firstly, the Mondeo had become rather expensive as a result of a drop in the value of Sterling. Secondly, those drivers who have been enjoying the high regard, powerful performance and premium feel that a German marque affords have become somewhat accustomed to the trappings.

The responses have come two-fold. Ford has recently restructured its price plans across the existing line-up of models, offering far greater value across its range including the Mondeo. And now the Mondeo has been revised with the aim of offering more power, more refinement and a more premium feel.

Read any review of the previous generation Ford Mondeo and it will tell you that it's a vehicle that offers a class-leading package. Handsome good looks, a spacious interior, a contemporary cockpit and the crisp handling that's become expected of Ford models were all present.

It's probably for the best, then, that Ford has concentrated its efforts resulting in a revised model that is at once comfortably familiar and intriguingly different.

It's worth noting early on that the traditional four-door saloon model is no more in the UK. Its sales were so inconsequential that Ford has opted only to offer the sleeker five-door and accommodating estate.

From the outside, the changes are subtle but apparent on closer inspection. The shared front ends are more in keeping with the hugely popular Focus and S-Max models.

The upper portion of the grille is sleeker, while the lower, trapezoidal portion has been made larger. LED running lamps are integrated into the fog lamp units and, along the sides, more chrome around the windows of the upper trim level models highlights the sleek window line and gives a greater impression of quality.

The same affect is mostly achieved, inside with revisions to details such as the door-panel design giving a more upmarket and design conscious feel. The centre console boasts a simple and attractive layout while the instrument binnacle is very impressive, with a clear colour display conveying information in an effortlessly absorbed manner.

The menu-based interface takes a little practice to master but is a success and even the models equipped with the new lane departure warning and speed limiter options use a minimum of buttons.

Also worthy of note are the extremely comfortable and supportive seats, the kind high-mileage drivers will really appreciate.

The changes go beyond cosmetics. Two new engine options include a 197bhp version of the 2.2-litre 'DuraTorq' diesel and a 237bhp, 2.0-litre 'EcoBoost' petrol. The latter is available with Ford's six-speed, twin-clutch PowerShift automatic transmission.

It's a slick combination and one that makes the most of the Mondeo's cossetting ride and responsive chassis, with seamless drive and an impressive turn of speed. Importantly, it's as smooth in town at low speed as when cruising, requiring no special treatment from the driver's seat.

As with the previous model, interior space is one of the Mondeo's trump cards. It feels hugely accommodating from passenger seats and the boot is generous in five-door form.

Mondeo man can continue to feel on top of his game for a few more years yet.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer
your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

BERR

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

.....your mail is our business fastest growing company in the UK in our sector with a turnover of £140 million
.....next year our CHALLENGE is to double sales

FP have been at the forefront of innovation since 1923, introducing the first automatic franking machine, the first electronic franking machine, the first digital franking machine, first ink jet machine and more recently the first multi-carrier machine to meet the new deregulated age. As postal authorities around the world are liberalising FP are working with them to meet the challenges and opportunities of the new environment.

Our start up machine mymail provides all the benefits and savings to smaller postal users and attractive, flexible rental agreements further show our commitment to matching customer needs.

We sell business to business nationally from our telesales operations in Hertfordshire and we are looking for ambitious, energetic and committed people who are able to add value to our business and contribute to our success.

If YOU relish a CHALLENGE and have the drive and determination to succeed, we provide a dynamic, modern environment and fantastic rewards for fantastic people.

Come to our Recruitment Open Day on 7 October 2010 and hear more about us - see our advert in recruitment for more details.

HIGHWAYS AGENCY

HIGHWAYS AGENCY
ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 14(1)(a)
THE M11 MOTORWAY (JUNCTION 8) AND THE A120 TRUNK ROAD (PRIORY WOOD ROUNDABOUT) (STANDESS, ESSEX)
(TEMPORARY 10 MILES PER HOUR AND 40 MILES PER HOUR SPEED RESTRICTION) ORDER 2010

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Secretary of State for Transport has made an Order on the M11 Motorway and the A120 Trunk Road, in the County of Essex, to allow for Standedd Airport Authority to undertake safety improvement works which include new road markings and traffic signs.

The works are expected to take place over a total of 8 nights (weekdays only 9pm - 4am) starting on, or after, Monday 11 October 2010.

For the purpose of this notice Birchanger Interchange and Priory Wood Roundabout mean, respectively, the A120 Birchanger Interchange at Junction 8 of the M11 and the A120 Thramall Avenue Roundabout.

The works will be carried out using mobile carriageway closures with traffic running in a convoy system of traffic management.

- The effect of the Order will be to impose a -
 - 1.1 10 miles per hour speed limit, when the convoy is in operation, and a 40 miles per hour speed limit at all other times on Birchanger Interchange and Priory Wood Roundabout, and
 - 1.2 40 miles per hour speed limit on the -
 - 1.2.1 southbound exit slip road of the M11 at Junction 8 for a distance of 400 metres to its junction with Birchanger Roundabout, and
 - 1.2.2 A120 eastbound exit slip road to Priory Wood Roundabout for a distance of 250 metres to its junction with that roundabout.

The temporary mandatory speed limit (which will not apply to emergency service vehicles) will be clearly signed throughout the works.

The Order will come into force on 4 October 2010 and have a maximum duration of eighteen months.

Mrs A V Middleton, An official of the Highways Agency
General Enquiries relating to this notice may be made in writing to Jim Godsmark at the Highways Agency, Woodlands, Manton Lane, Manton Industrial Estate, Bedford MK41 3LW or by telephoning 01234 796020.

Wilkins Foods Limited (formerly Windmill Eggs and Potatoes Limited) of Unit 22 Stort Mill, River Way, Harlow, Essex CM20 2SN are applying to change an existing licence as follows:

To change the company name from Windmill Eggs & Potatoes Limited to Wilkins Foods Limited, to add an operating centre to keep two goods vehicles at Unit 22 Stort Mill, River Way, Harlow, Essex CM20 2SN which will not be subject to the existing conditions or undertakings on their licence.

Owners or occupiers of land (including buildings) near the operating centre who believe that their use or enjoyment of that land would be affected, should make written representations to the Traffic Commissioner at Hillcrest House, 386 Harehills Lane, Leeds LS9 6NF stating their reasons, within 21 days of this notice. Representatives must at the same time send a copy of their representations to the applicant at the address given at the top of this notice. A guide to making representations is available from the Traffic Commissioner's Office.

First referees' open meeting recruits 30

HARLOW Referees' Society's first ever open meeting attracted strong interest from budding officials.

The event was held at the Esporta health club in Harlow on Monday and recruited nearly 30 people who have signed up for a referees course.

Harlow Referees' Society secretary Karen Innes said: "We did not anticipate such a big turnout. We now have 27 people who have actually registered for a course in Harlow, ranging from 14 years to 52 years of age!"

The Society's committee answered questions and demonstrated its achievements in a bid to attract new referees.

Feedback for the event was positive.

The meeting lasted two hours.

Chairman of the Harlow Referees Association, Terry Rackley, said: "The event will be a great platform to build upon."

Going for gold!

CHLOE Rogers is remaining calm despite the media hype about the forthcoming Commonwealth Games in India, writes DAVID RIMMER.

The 25-year-old midfielder, born in Harlow, is in the England women's hockey team which will start its campaign against Wales next Tuesday (October 5).

She was also part of the England squad that gained a bronze medal at the Commonwealth Games in Melbourne in 2006.

Rogers flew out with the team on Sunday and England are one of the favourites to come home with a medal.

She has read some of the horror stories about the complex in the national media but said: "You think 'oh my god' but we have had reassurance from people we trust."

They had lost on penalty strokes to Holland in the semi-final. The game had finished 1-1. Holland lost 3-1 to Argentina in the final.

Ladies in narrow defeat to title favourites

TWO second-half goals from Harlow were not enough to overcome pre-season promotion favourites Crostyx on Saturday.

The sides were evenly matched but it was the visitors that broke the deadlock after 15 minutes; a swift counter-attack was converted well by the Crostyx centre-forward.

The hosts built pressure of their own and captain Emma Tweddle and Carolyn Rushton both went close to finding the equaliser, only to be thwarted by fine saves from the Crostyx keeper. The visitors went close to doubling their lead from a penalty corner, but Jo Chambers' last ditch goal-line clearance denied them.

Five minutes into the second period, Crostyx made it 2-0 from a penalty corner. Harlow struck back almost immediately when Georgina Esterhuysen drilled in from the left-hand side.

But their hopes were dashed with 10 minutes remaining when a fine solo run from the Crostyx left forward was converted from close range past Linda Rowley in the Harlow goal.

With seven minutes left, the home side made it 3-2 to set up an exciting climax to the game.

Sonya Amos intercepted a Crostyx hit and found Rushton. She forced her way into the circle and slipped the ball left to Tweddle, who was in space, and she rifled past the advancing keeper.

Despite their late efforts, Harlow were unable to force an equaliser. HARLOW: Rowley, Shearman, Chambers, Hansson, Trimble, Figg, Ferdinando, Esterhuysen, Spencer, Amos, Phipps, Douglas, Rushton, Tweddle.

Second-half reversal cuts down U-15s

HARLOW Rugby Club's U-15 side were unable to hang onto their half-time lead and slipped to a 15-12 home defeat against Rochford in a friendly.

The hosts went behind through an unconverted try in the first five minutes of Sunday's match.

Harlow fought back and Mitchell Sinfield scored a try but Scott Whitby missed the conversion.

Rhys Davis scored the Rams' second try and this was converted by Chay Clark, giving Harlow a 12-5

However, the visitors scored two unconverted tries in the second half to win by three points.

Harlow U-14s lost 7-0 in a friendly at home to Woodford, who scored a converted try in the first half.

Rams chief not ready to panic

LEE Harron, the Rams director of rugby, is not hitting any panic buttons but knows his Harlow side need to develop a more clinical edge.

Harlow have lost all three league games so far. Although Saffron Walden won comfortably against Harlow 12 days ago, the Rams' other two matches – against Old Streetonians at home and at Enfield Ignatians (last Saturday) could have gone either way.

Harlow are now 10th in the 12-team table.

They are due to host newly-promoted side Canvey Island this Saturday.

Harron, who will miss the Canvey game due to his work commitments as a police

Enfield Ignatians 10, Harlow 3

RFU London & SE, division two north east officer, said: "We're coming together as a team but we need to take our half chances. We cannot just get bonus points."

"We need to work harder in the last half of the pitch [to get tries]."

The Rams' line-up at Enfield Ignatians saw Charlie Woodington come in at scrum-half while Harron moved to fly-half as Michael Dobson was at his brother's wedding. Hooker Martin Mallia (shoulder injury) was also ruled out.

The visitors came close to scoring twice in a scoreless first half.

Chris Bates made a clean break and was only stopped by a desperate tap tackle.

He then hit a post from out wide with a penalty attempt on the stroke of half-time.

Enfield started the second half with two strong attacks, both leading to unconverted tries on 42 and 50 minutes.

The Rams were aggrieved with the first one from Tom Killey, as one of their players was inadvertently obstructed by the referee a few yards from the Harlow line.

Harron said: "The ref admitted afterwards he made an error which was a bit hard to take but we should not have missed two tackles beforehand and been in that position."

"We should also have taken those earlier chances."

The second try came from an excellent move which led to winger Tom Bermel being released for a touch down.

Harlow came more into the game in the last quarter but did not score until Bates kicked a late penalty.

Ignatians hung on to their lead while the Rams claimed a bonus point.

Woodington will remain at scrum-half for the Canvey game, while Dobson comes back at fly-half. Back Simon Vanbeck should return from a knee injury.

However, prop James Lewis (broken hand) and Mallia (shoulder injury) will not be available.

HARLOW: Mackie (Banks 55), Webb, L. Bowering, Bates, Grimley, Harron, Woodington, Cunningham, Bolt (Lane 60), Prindiville, Trearmer (Barr 60), Hawkins, Roberts, M. Bowering, Eynon.

Ladies look in good form ahead of opener

New Ash Green Ladies 5, Harlow Ladies 22
Friendly

THE season gets under way for Harlow Ladies in 10 days' time, but the Rams are looking a competent outfit if Sunday's result was anything to go by.

The side picked up a convincing win over New Ash Green, scoring four tries to the Kent outfit's one.

Harlow welcomed Sophie Bray back into the squad now as she has finished university and has returned to the town.

New recruit Lucie Gibson, playing at fly-half, enjoyed an excellent debut and scored two tries.

She also made a superb try-saving tackle at the other end.

Carla Marshall scored the visitors' first try after coming on as a sub. It was her first try for the club, although the conversion was missed.

Becky Conway doubled Harlow's lead with a try after she capitalised when an opponent fell awkwardly on an ankle.

The hosts halved the deficit when their full-back nipped through for their only try.

Gibson ran in both her tries from the halfway line to put the match beyond Ash Green.

Nicky Millman converted the last try.

On Sunday Harlow are at home to Romford (KO 2pm).

HARLOW LADIES: Baldwin, Lucas, Cotterill, Acraman, Lee, Doherty, Millman, Lacey, King, Gibson, Bray, McLellan, Conway, O'Donnell, Perry. Sub: Marshall.

Judo

JOE Arnold clinched a gold medal for Harlow Judo Club at the Worthing Mini-Mon Championships.

The 11 year-old was in impressive form, comfortably defeating all his opponents to take the gold in the under 60kgs group.

Rebecca Howlett (8) fought with skill and determination to take bronze in the U-28kgs section.

Thomas Rees (10) battled his way through a tough U-34kgs group to take fifth place.

At the Samurai Green Belt and Below U-16 Championships, held in Kidderminster in Warwickshire, Chloe Nunn (10) had an excellent tournament and won all her fights by the maximum score of Ippon.

This gave her the gold medal in the U-40kgs group.

TOP DOGS: Harlow Greyhound Stadium is now racing on a Sunday

PUNTERS are switching their Sunday afternoon nap for a different type of NAP as Harlow Greyhound Stadium's decision to start racing all weekend starts to pay off.

Operations Director Mick Davis said the Pinnacles-based stadium had seen people traffic increase tremendously since the track began holding meets on Sundays.

Harlow has axed its Wednesday evening racing.

There are meets at Stadium Way on Friday and Saturday evenings, as well as the new Sunday events. Racing starts at 2pm on Sundays.

"It's going really well. We're getting lots of people through the doors on a Sunday," said Davis.

A WEAKENED Harlow side crumbled to a heavy home defeat at the hands of Witham II in their opening league game.

The hosts' absentees on Saturday included left-back Steve Jones (back injury), forward Chris Shearman-Slack (quad injury) and inside forward James Smith (work commitments).

An Andrew Boughtwood strike hit a Witham post early on before the visitors went ahead on 18 minutes when Gavin Dixon converted a short corner from the top of the D.

The visitors scored twice more in the next six minutes. Chubba Maka converted a Paul Bellehew pass, and Bellehew made it 3-0 when he beat at least three Harlow players before firing past

Return of the Mack for top 20 Walden finish

Running

STEVE Mackenzie secured a brilliant 20th place out of more than 300 runners at the Saffron Walden 10K race.

A hilly, multi-terrain event, Mackenzie was the fastest of the Harlow Running Club contingent, clocking a time of 39 minutes and 15 seconds.

He was closely followed home by Jamie Jephcott in 23rd spot (39.40).

Dave Page recorded 51:46, while Ron Newton finished in 51:58.

Janice Page was fastest woman in 52.41.

Meanwhile, at the Run to the Beat race – London's Music Half Marathon – Harlow's Katie Herrington finished in an excellent 1 hr, 39 mins and 41 secs.

At a hilly Taunton 10K in Somerset, Harlow's Bryony Maddams finished in a creditable 46 mins 44 secs.

appearance at the Commonwealth Games. She was just under age for the last one in Melbourne, Australia, in 2006. There will be huge pressure on Harten, who plays in the key position of goal striker. She was named in the England squad last month.

"I'm excited. Everybody is fit and raring to go. It is my first Commonwealth Games," she said.

There are 12 teams in the competition and these will be divided into two groups of six.

The top two from each group will go forward to the semi-finals and England's group programme will begin with a game against Barbados on Monday (October 4).

England are in the same group as New Zealand who are ranked second in the world while number one ranked side Australia are in the other group.

have got everybody back [from injury] we will be that much stronger."

Stevenson was philosophical about the FA Cup defeat. "We gifted them two goals and they were that bit better in front of goal. We were not going to win the FA Cup. It's not our main priority," he said.

"There was no pressure away to a Conference South side. They were a bit fitter and a bit more organised.

"We gave them a bit too much respect in the first half and we had a better second half."

The fans' support was also praised by Stevenson whom he rates highly. More than 90 Hawks supporters made the five-hour round trip.

"Our fans are up there with the best of them. They always spur you on. It's not easy to follow a team the way things are [economically] at the moment," he said.

"We had 80 or 90 fans here and that is brilliant. They spur you on. They gave us a cheer when we were warming down at the end and that's fair play to them."

Hawks boss swoops for Farnborough ace

HAWKS boss Kevin Warren has swooped for Farnborough Town left-back Sacha Opinel.

The Harlow Town manager completed the signing of the French defender on Tuesday.

"He wants to come to Harlow. He's a very good defender and he has a physical side to his game. He will be a good player for us," said Warren.

Meanwhile, midfielder Andy Porter (dislocated shoulder) could return to the Hawks line-up for the Ryman League division one north match at home to Wingate & Finchley in nine days' time. The ex-Chelmsford City player picked up the injury in August and has played in one reserve match and was due to play again tonight (Thursday).

Harlow Town are without a game this weekend as they received a bye in the first qualifying round of the FA Trophy.

Last Tuesday's scheduled away league game at Brentwood was called off as the side were in an FA Cup replay.

Harlow have rearranged their league game at Ilford for Wednesday October 20.

Meanwhile, midfielders Paul Shave and Steve Verlandia have left the club.

Brown the source of tournament win

AGE proved no barrier as 12-year-old Henry Brown won the Junior Captain's Day at Harlow's Canons Brook Golf Club.

Henry scored 45 points, winning on countback from Aaron Bowden (16), who also scored 45 points.

Current junior captain Simon White (18) was third with 38 points.

Club captain Alan Howick presented the prizes for the event which was marked by good weather.

Fifteen youngsters aged 12 to 18 played in the competition.

Junior organiser Mark Hepworth said: "There was some high standard golf as we had some single handicap golfers. Henry Brown played very well to win it, as did Aaron Bowden."

The Elizabeth Way club is looking to extend its junior section. Youngsters from 11 years-plus can take up the sport.

No upset as Rooks take Hawks in Cup

Lewes 2, Harlow Tn 0

FA Cup, 2nd qualifying round

DAVID RIMMER reports from The Dripping Pan

THE X factor was missing for the Hawks as they were knocked out of the FA Cup in East Sussex by Blue Square Bet South side Lewes.

Harlow Town paid for two first-half defensive lapses from corners and lacked that extra craft in the last third to turn pressure into goals in the second period – and set up an FA Cup upset.

The Rooks, who play two divisions higher than Harlow, were sharper and created the more clear-cut opportunities on Saturday.

Harlow only arrived an hour before the kick-off because of heavy traffic.

Central defender Laurie Stewart was on the bench. He had missed the 3-0 win against Maldon & Tiptree four days earlier through suspension and Harlow boss Kevin Warren kept faith with the central defensive partnership of skipper Leo Roget and Jon Stevenson.

The Rooks almost went ahead on six minutes. Sonny Cobbs' cross from the right found Tom Murphy whose header forced Hawks keeper Rhys Madden to tip the ball onto a post. Rob Cradwell fired the rebound wide.

At the other end, Che Stadhart shot from an acute angle straight at home keeper Chris Winterton on 13 minutes.

CLOSE CONTACT: Hawks skipper Leo Roget keeps a close eye on a Lewes player (Pic supplied by James Boyes)

The hosts came close to scoring before they finally went ahead on 33 minutes.

Ex-Stevenage midfielder Simon Wormull's left-wing corner preceded Chris Breach timing his run beautifully to nod home at the near post.

Lewes were galvanised and they were 2-0 up just six minutes later.

Wormull's flag kick was headed in by Breach at the far post.

Warren said: "We gave away two goals from set-pieces. We knew they were going to be strong there and did not defend them."

"After that it was going to take a lot to come back. Their first goal relaxed them and allowed them to play."

Shortly after the break, Stevenson was booked for a foul on Cradwell.

Harlow were much improved in the second half.

Steve Ferguson nodded back well to set up Stadhart but he scuffed a shot close to the hour.

The visitors were forced to shoot from distance and were unable to conjure anything from free-kicks, while Ferguson's long throws into the box lacked variety.

Lewes went close to a third when Murphy's effort forced a tip over save from Madden on 76 minutes.

On 89 minutes after a move down the left sliced open Harlow's defence, Madden's feet kept out Cradwell's shot.

Warren added: "After half-time we got more possession but the crosses were not good enough. We did not get shots off in time and we lacked a threat on set-pieces."

"Our attitude was spot on and it was a shame we could not get a result."

HARLOW TN: Madden 7, Barnard 5 (Bradbury 82), Barnes 6 (Stewart 83), Roget 6, Stevenson 7, Kilapi 5, Akers 6, Cowley 6, Stadhart 6, Ferguson 5, Modeste-Humphrey 6 (Yao 75). Subs not used: May, Wheeler. Att: 785.

Goalie's Mad for it (keeping No.1 spot!)

RHYS Madden is determined to grab the Hawks number one shirt off James Hasell and make it his own.

The 22-year-old keeper was signed from Witham Town in the close season and has performed well over the last four matches, starting with the FA Cup replay win at Bethnal Green United 17 days ago.

He has come into the team as Hasell has been on honeymoon and has kept two clean sheets in his absence.

Madden, pictured above, said: "It's up for grabs and I want it. At the start of the season I was gutted, now I have a chance to take it."

"I cannot say I am better than him. He is a good keeper. He has gone away [on honeymoon]. I hope that I can play well enough and stay there."

He added: "My best game was against Maldon and it was a good team performance [a 3-0 win]."

Madden is positive about Harlow's prospects for the season. He said: "The facilities for a non-League club – they are first class. I do not see why the club cannot go further."

Hawks boss Kevin Warren declined to say what he will do when Hasell returns.

"Jim will have to get fit again when he gets back and Rhys has shown he is more than capable. He's a very good keeper."

Five shine in South England Champs

Athletics

FIVE Harlow students turned in sterling displays when they competed in the South of England Road Relay Championships at Aldershot on Saturday.

Over a 2.3km circuit, Mark Hall School pupil Alicia McArdell (13) found herself virtually last at the start but did well to rally and finish 27th in 9 minutes and 15 seconds.

Stewards School student Rosie Poole, only just 11, ran with great commitment to clock 9.43 for 28th.

Sky Mulvey, 12, another Mark Hall pupil, ran really well, overtaking six runners to record a fine time of 9.17 for 22nd.

The trio were running for Woodford AC U-13 girls team and they finished 22nd out of 70 teams.

Two Harlow-based athletes ran in the U-15 girls 3km relay race for Woodford Green with Essex Ladies AC.

Burnt Mill School pupil Amelia Barrett (14) completed the first leg in 11.45.

Isobel Moss (14), from Passmores School, ran well to finish the course in 12.16.

They were part of a trio which came 24th from 62 teams overall.

Athletes remain focused despite site fears in India

By DAVID RIMMER

ACE rifleman James Huckle was remaining calm ahead of his trip to India to represent Great Britain at his first ever Commonwealth Games – despite fears over the sub-standard athletes' village and safety concerns.

Pictures of poor and filthy accommodation have made the pages of the national press.

Meanwhile, a bridge to the complex and the ceiling of the weightlifting centre have collapsed this week.

The 20 year-old rifleman from Old Road, Old Harlow, was due to fly out with the England rifle shooting team yesterday (Wednesday).

Huckle is one of four athletes from Harlow attending the games. He will join 800m runner Andrew Osagie and netball star Jo Harten. Harlow-born England hockey star Chloe Rogers will also compete at the event.

Former Mark Hall School pupil Huckle said: "With an event this big there are going to be problems. Everybody is in the same boat and you take it in your stride."

"I have been there [India] before and know what to expect. People are so friendly there. We are really optimistic of it going ahead. The Indians have a different way of organising it. I'm sure it will be fine."

He added: "It will be a big shame if we are not there. People are so friendly there."

Huckle has fond memories of India.

He claimed three gold medals in the Commonwealth Youth Games in 2008 which were held in Pune. These came in the 50m rifle HARLOW netball player Joanne Harten, pictured above, wants nothing less than gold in India at the Commonwealth Games which starts next week. Much coverage has been given to the problems in Delhi.

However, the former St Mark's School student – who flew out to the sub-continent on Tuesday – told the Star: "We have been kept up to date by England netball and Team England. We have been getting emails every day."

"We have been reassured about our safety and that the accommodation is suitable for us. We have been told it is fit for human habitation."

She added: "We are going out there to fly the flag and bring back gold."

It will be the first trip to India for the 21 year-old Loughborough University student who is currently studying for an international relations degree. This will be her first prone, 10m air rifle and 50m rifle events.

Huckle also tasted success in New Delhi when he claimed three silver medals and two bronze medals in the Commonwealth Shooting Federation Championships this year.

Other international success saw him claim a gold in the 10m air rifle when he represented Great Britain at the 2009 Australian Youth Olympic Festival in Sydney.

The Harlow marksman, who was invited to train with the Great Britain team at the National Shooting Centre at Bisley in Surrey earlier this year, will be competing in two events in India.

These are the standing 10m air rifle competition and three P event (prone, standing and kneeling from 50m).

"I'm in the best form of my life and I'm really hopeful of getting medals," he added.

Stevenson: 'Forget FA Cup loss - we want title'

DEFENDER Jon Stevenson says his Hawks side must put their FA Cup exit behind them and push on and win the Ryman League division one north title this season.

Hopes of another Cup run similar to two years ago when they reached the first round proper and played Macclesfield in front of 2,400, were dashed when they lost at Blue Square Bet South club Lewes 2-0 in East Sussex on Saturday.

Speaking an hour after the Cup tie, Stevenson said: "We have to look forward to winning the league. That is our main priority. It's definitely something that is on."

"We have a great set of lads on the staff. We know what we want and we are not that far short of it. Once we
